

Guide for using the Check-in system

This guide shows you how to check in at checkpoints along the Gotland Run- route using your smartphone.

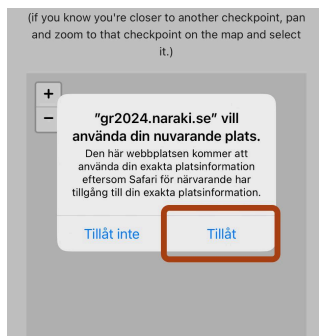

Step 1: Open the website

Open the web browser on your smartphone (e.g., Chrome, Safari) and go to <https://gr2024.naraki.se>.

Step 2: Log in

- Enter your BIB number in the first field.
- Enter your PIN code in the second field (you will receive your PIN code from Peter).
- Tap the blue "Log in" button.

Step 3: Allow location access

- A box will pop up asking if gr2024.naraki.se wants to use your current location.
- To make the system work properly, tap "Allow".

Step 4: Waiting for positioning

- The system will now try to find your location.
- You will see "locating..." under "YOU ARE @ CHECKPOINT".
- A green box will be displayed on the screen while positioning is in progress.

Step 5: Check in at a checkpoint

- When the system has found your location and you are close enough to a checkpoint, the checkpoint number will be displayed.
- Tap the green button "CHECK IN @ [checkpoint number]" to check in.

Step 6: Confirm check-in

- A green box with the text "Checked in @ [distance to checkpoint] km" will appear to confirm that you have checked in.
- Tap "DONE" to return to the map.

Additional information:

- If you know that you are closer to another checkpoint than the one displayed, you can pan and zoom the map to select that checkpoint.
- You can see your current location on the map, marked with a blue dot.
- The blue line on the map shows the Gotland Run- route.

Tips:

- Make sure you have an internet connection to use the system.
- Enable location services for your web browser in your smartphone's settings.
- If you are having trouble checking in, try turning your smartphone off and on again.

For quick access! Add a shortcut to the "app" as an icon on your home screen.
